

Michael Erdle

Chartered Arbitrator Mediator and Facilitator

Michael Erdle co-founded Practical Resolutions Inc. in 2011, to help those involved in technology and intellectual property disputes resolve them in an efficient, cost-effective way, through facilitated negotiations, mediation and arbitration.

Michael is one of Canada's most experienced and qualified commercial dispute resolution professionals. He has more than 20 years' experience as a technology and intellectual property lawyer. He has successfully negotiated countless agreements and assisted clients in resolving a wide variety of commercial disputes. He is a trained and experienced facilitator, mediator and arbitrator. Since 2005, Michael has successfully mediated resolutions in shareholder and joint venture matters, computer software development and implementation projects, as well as trademark and other intellectual property disputes. He has acted as sole arbitrator in cases involving ownership of intellectual property, software licensing, technology distribution, and other commercial and contract issues.

Michael is a director of the ADR Institute of Ontario and the Canadian IT Law Association. He is a past president of the Intellectual Property Institute of Canada. Michael has written and spoken on many current issues in information technology and intellectual property law, including: dispute resolution; software development and licensing; electronic commerce; domain names; and outsourcing. He has lectured in intellectual property and technology law at Osgoode Hall Law School in Toronto and McGill University in Montreal.
